"Well, I think the Olympic spirit is something very important. And I wish that I had had the Youth Olympic Games when I was growing up. I think it is a great experience for the kids to meet other kids from different countries, cultures... There is so much learning that is involved with all the YOG programmes and I think that it is very important, so I am glad and proud to be an ambassador and I think Lausanne 2020 is going to be amazing”

01:11 Wide shot of Lindsey Vonn and the young winter athletes during the meet and greet session

01:17 Detail shot of another one of the skiers from the Alpina Ski Club

02:07 SOUNDBITE: Bigna Schmellentin, Swiss skier

"Before Lausanne 2020 I have to train hard and build my motivation"

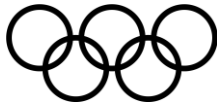

02:15 Lindsey Vonn autographs one of the participant's coats

02:20 SOUNDBITE: Marco Meili, Swiss skier

"What motivates me is that the more difficult it gets the more I want to do"

02:28 SOUNDBITE: Martin Berthod, Director of Sport and Events, St Moritz (English Language)

"It's an honour, big honour to work together with Lausanne and to host the YOG in 2020. We have always asked to be a part of it, and then it happened. First, with the Bobsled [track], the only Bobsled track in the world with natural ice and that's why we are now partner of Lausanne and that is a great honour for Saint-Moritz and for this part of Switzerland"

02:54 Some of the kids petting Lindsey Vonn's dog

03:00 SOUNDBITE: Martin Berthod, Director of Sport and Events, St Moritz (English Language)

03:24 SOUNDBITE: Lindsey Vonn, Winter Olympic Champion, Women's Downhill Skiing Vancouver 2010 & Ambassador for the Youth Olympic Games Lausanne 2020 (English Language)

"I have been, anxiously awaiting these Olympics for the last eight years. I have been training especially hard this summer. You know, I am really trying to make sure I do not miss anything: from my diet to my travel and of course my workouts, my skiing... Everything that I have done has been in preparation for these Olympics. So, right now I am trying to stay healthy going in. So far it is not going very well but, you know, i think I am saving all of my luck for February. Hopefully everything will work out the way that it is supposed to"

04:05 SOUNDBITE: Lindsey Vonn, Winter Olympic Champion, Women's Downhill Skiing Vancouver 2010 & Ambassador for the Youth Olympic Games Lausanne 2020 (English Language)

"Most of the time younger athletes, I mean I was the same... underestimate the older athletes. But the one thing that I have is experience: I know how to handle the pressure and I know... I just know a lot about the sport, so..."

04:24 The American skier giving more autographs to the children from the Alpina Ski Club

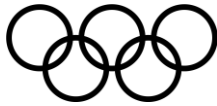

04:34 SOUNDBITE: Lindsey Vonn, Winter Olympic Champion, Women's Downhill Skiing Vancouver 2010 & Ambassador for the Youth Olympic Games Lausanne 2020 (English Language)

"I think that the Olympics are always a platform to bring people together. When you look at the past and all the wars and international crises that have been going on, the Olympics has always something that people can look forward to, no matter what country you come from and you can cheer for your country, you can cheer for the foreigners... And you can for a brief moment forget about everything else that is going on in the world and really get excited about something. So I hope that is what will happen in these Olympic Games, I hope that we can come together, the world as a whole, and make peace with each other for one small moment and hopefully be a better place for it”

00:14 Close up child athlete

00:16 SOUNDBITE: Lindsey Vonn, Winter Olympic Champion, Women's Downhill Skiing Vancouver 2010 & Ambassador for the Youth Olympic Games Lausanne 2020 (English Language)

"I think that the most important thing the kids will learn from the Youth Olympic Games is cultures. It is a chance for them to experience things that they normally would not be able to experience. And it's not so much about the competition but about being together and sharing that experience and learning from it and growing as human beings and then going on in the future to hopefully becoming Olympians”.

01:13 SOUNDBITE: Lindsey Vonn, Winter Olympic Champion, Women's Downhill Skiing Vancouver 2010 & Ambassador for the Youth Olympic Games Lausanne 2020 (English Language)

"I do not know if these will be my last Olympics, but I imagine it will be. You know, my body has taken a very solid beating over the course of my career so I am not sure it can handle anymore but I will definitely keep skiing if it is possible, always have to take it day by day and year by year and see what happens".

01:39 SOUNDBITE: Lindsey Vonn, Winter Olympic Champion, Women's Downhill Skiing Vancouver 2010 & Ambassador for the Youth Olympic Games Lausanne 2020 (English Language)

"I think that there is so much history in Saint-Moritz, Olympic history and sports history. And to be able to compete with these young kids, to be able to compete on the original bobsled track... I think they built it in 1908 or '04 that is a pretty incredible experience. And to be able to do the speed skating out on the lake is going to be incredibly spectacular".

02:33 Overview of the frozen lake of St. Moritz in Switzerland, speed skating venue of the Lausanne 2020 Youth Olympic Games

02:38 SOUNDBITE: Martin Berthod, Director of Sport and Events, St Moritz (English Language)

"It was and it still is very important to have been the host for the 1928 and 1948 [Olympic Games], the only Winter games or Olympic Games in Switzerland and for St. Moritz it was part of the image we have now as a sports resort and we are still left with one or two infrastructures, as I mentioned: the Bobsled track, the only one, still the same run that they used in 1928 and 1948 on the same line, so it is a great legacy for Olympic sports”.
