STORY SCRIPT:

International Olympic Committee (IOC) President Thomas Bach was sitting amongst the fans as host nation Argentina celebrated its first gold medal of Youth Olympic Games Buenos Aires 2018.

Maria Ordas comfortably saw off her rivals in the Junior Women's Single Sculls to the delight of fans gathered on the Puerta de la Mujer Bridge overlooking the course.

She triggered the finishing line klaxon half a second ahead of Sweden's Elin Lindroth. Bronze medallist Greta Jaanson of Estonia finished 2.32 seconds behind the Argentinian winner.

The Junior Men's Single Sculls was won by Ukraine's Ivan Tyshchenko. The 18 year old pipped Ivan Brynza of Belarus to the finishing line by 0.37 seconds. Australia's Cormac Kennedy-Leverett finished 1.37 seconds behind the Ukrainian winner.

Buenos Aires 2018 is the third edition of the Summer Youth Olympic Games (YOG) to be held, bringing together the world's best young athletes between the ages of 15 and 18. For the first time in Olympic history the Games will have gender equality, with equal numbers of males and females competing in the 32-sport programme.

Almost 4,000 athletes from 206 National Olympic Committees will be competing for 1,250 medals. The Youth Olympic Games Buenos Aires 2018 feature new sports and many new disciplines and events, reflecting the passions of the 'Game Changers', a new generation of athletes and fans.

The event offers a glimpse into the future of the Games as the new programme will introduce several innovations that will be replicated at the Olympic Games Tokyo 2020.

The first Summer Youth Olympic Games took place in Singapore in 2010. The second edition was held in the Chinese city of Nanjing in 2014.
